Miss Sallie Glymph, aged about 15 ears, died on Sunday, 26th inst. of Malarial Hamaturia. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. John M. Glymph.

Dr. J. O. Dickert, a respected citizen and physician and farmer of Chappell's. died at his home last Friday, the 24th inst, after several weeks' illness, of Typhoid fever, in the 46th year of his age. His remains were interred at the old family burial ground near Hope Station last Sunday afternoon, surrounded by a large circle of sorrowing relatives and friends. Dr. Dickert was a man of ! kind disposition and warm, friendly nature. He will be missed, not only for his good qualities of heart and hand, but also for his intelligent counselings. His funeral services were conducted by the Rev. S. T. Hallman. Besides a large number of relatives and friends, the decensed leaves a wife and daughter and two step-daughters to mourn his depart-

Died, at his home in the town of Newberry, after a lingering paralytic affection, Mr. William C. Johnson, in the 70th year of his age. He was within four mouths of the allotted period of man's life-three-score years and ten. By his death Newberry loses one of her old one of their cldest and most highly respected numbers. Mr. Johnson quietly passed away last Thursday, the 23rd inst. The funeral services were conducted at the Episcopal Church by Rev. Mr. Hanckel, who was telegraphed for and came down Friday to perform the sad duty-to administer the last rite to this departed member of his congregation. And he was buried at Rosemont Cemetery by the Masonic fraternity, to await the last trumpet. The deceased was a devoted member of St. Luke's Church, and was the last member left who was in Newborry when that church was or-ganized. He long held high office in the church he loved so well. Until the hand of disease stayed his willing feet, the old man could be regularly seen wending his way to the house of worship. It was much as he could do to get the resometimes, but, like Bu yan's Christian, he ever climbed and got nearer Calvary's mount. And beautiful was his love for the church. Upon his last attendance his pastor noticing that he was too ill to go the altar, a hininistered the sacrament to him in his pew. But not only will he be missed from the Church. Amity Lodge, A. F. M., also loses a strong pillar from its temple. He was a charter member of that lodge, and for thirty years held the office of Tyler. He was the oldest mason in the county, if not the oldest in the State. For more than a quarter of a century a regular officer and attendant in the lodge! A tegrity, zeal and worth. A proud and noble record to transmit to his descendants. His life was a success, his death peace. He leaves a wife, son and two daughters, and grand-children to follow

Think of the possibility, shouts the ugle blast of the Anderson Journal, of John R. Tolhert going to Congress as your Representative! We learn that the large negro majority of Newberry County is registered almost to a man, ready to vote solid for Tolbert. Let no D-moerat fail to vote and influence as many colored voters as possible.

Watch the Poll Lists.

The Lexington Dispatch says there are a great many colored people who are not paying their poll taxes and we recommend that our Auditor and Treasarer refer to the poll list after the election and upon every defaulter add the penalty and issue executions. The county will then receive a tax of which it has long been defrauded.

The tourists have about all returned, the new buildings are nearing completion, the fall trade has opened, cool weather has at last come to drive away landmarks and the oldest inhabitants guars and dry up the perspiration of the hasy searon, the college and academies are in the midst of their fall session, wise people are piling up fire wood for the cold rains and sleets of winter, the possum a of 'their season is upon as in ill its glory, and all the approaching festivities and health-giving recreations of frosty weather, notwithstanding its wintry blasts and leicle-c.owned trees. give the lie to the oft-repeated quotation of the November days being the saddest of the year. this county," but the has many friends and his course in Congress entitles him to the universal support of the Demoerats of this county. In a fair convention, with every delegate present, he re-ceived the nomination of the party on the 110th ballot. His opponents were true Democrats and worthy of support, out Col. Aiken distanced all of them. While, then, some of our readers may disagree with him on special matters still he is a sound Democrat, and as the nominee of the party, should receive our undivided support. Col. Aiken has devoted his energies especially to the elevation of the farming interests of the country and has left no stone unturned to increase the appropriation by Congress for improved seeds and for a position in the cabinet for the farmers. This is not his chief virtue, for he not only personally attends, and promptly, too, to all matters of business for his constituents, but he gives his influence at all times to the appointment of suitable persons as postmasters and to other national offices in his District. With a Democratic President his services would be invaluable to this Congressional District, and no one should fail to support him on the 4th of November.
